[redacted] Staten Island, New York, advised that he currently is a member of the [redacted] Reserve Unit, and that he has been in this unit since [redacted]. He said that for about a year and a half previously, he was with the 24th Military Intelligence Battalion, Reserve Unit.

He advised that his brother, ROBERT WOODCOCK, joined the 11th Special Forces Group Reserve Unit at Miller Army Airfield about a year ago, and became friendly with [redacted]

[redacted] of this group. He advised that during the Summer of 1966, [redacted] ROBERT WOODCOCK and himself went to a tavern in Staten Island to have a few beers. He stated a discussion developed with [redacted] doing most of the talking. He recalled that [redacted] spoke about the possibility of a rebellion being started by the Black Muslims or the Communist Party, and what steps could be taken to protect their families if this should occur. He mentioned that they could evacuate their families to a safe area, by air, land or by boat. He dismissed air travel because none of them could pilot a plane, and he also eliminated land travel since, if there was such a rebellion, presumably the roads would be blocked and this left only evacuation by boat. He brought out that ROBERT WOODCOCK was experienced in handling boats because of his previous experience with the Commandos while in the Army, while he, [redacted] could take care of the communications. When asked by [redacted] with whom he would communicate, [redacted] replied that they had connections in Vermont, that they had a doctor, supplies and caches in Vermont. He stated that [redacted] then said there was a converted sub chaser, the "Elmar II", in Sheepshead Bay, which was owned by two brothers, one of whom was dead, and it was being held in port because of a legal dispute. [redacted] stated that the Captain was not "with us", but that he could force the Captain at gunpoint to do as he directed, and added that the First Mate would handle the boat since he was in on the deal. [redacted] advised that he objected to this whole idea, that it was illegal and would involve them all in a great deal of trouble, and it was then agreed they would drop this plan. He said that he learned later from ROBERT WOODCOCK that they said this to keep him satisfied, but that privately they still retained their plans for the seizure of this vessel.

[] advised that he met with these three men on two or three other occasions, and plans for an evacuation of themselves and their families were discussed further. He said it was decided that they would hire a boat and make a test run with an unnamed friend of [] doing the navigating and ROBERT WOODCOCK operating the boat. Under this arrangement, [] was to be picked up at Breezy Point, and [] at Graham Beach in Staten Island. He stated that this trial run was made some time in September, 1966, as planned, but that it turned out to be a foggy day and it was further determined that the boat used was not large enough for their purposes.

b7c

He advised that shortly afterwards, they all met again in a tavern in Staten Island, and the question came up as where they would move their families. He said that [] declared they would go to the White Mountains in Vermont, that they would camp out and he had connections in this area. He further said they would test out their plan by land. He identified his connection in Vermont as [] (phonetic), who he said owns about 40 acres in that state. [] told them further that they had medical supplies in a room in Vermont and that if 50 men are evacuated by boat, they had supplies to take care of them. He also said that they had 50 other individuals from Pennsylvania whom they would join, and that there was a Forest Ranger in Vermont who has the plans of a park in the White Mountains, which pinpoints the location of emergency areas and caches provided by the state for emergencies. [] also told them that there were a total of 300 in their groups, all with separate caches, that they would be unable to hold off the enemy by themselves and needed the others, and furthermore, that they had firearms for this purpose. [] declared that [] had three .30 caliber machine guns and ammunition, up in Vermont, and [] noted that he learned later that the ammunition had been taken from various firing ranges. Also mentioned by [] on this occasion was that their group had about 100 rifles and carbines, and when they made their trip, they were to meet [] in Berlin, which he said was either in New Hampshire or Vermont. [] said that [] was in a Special Forces group in Vermont, and to demonstrate that there was such a person, [] made a long distance call from this tavern, the Keyboard Lounge, and put [] on the telephone to speak to him. [] recalled that [] commented to him, "I hear you want to join our Boy Scout group", to which he replied, "Yes, I want to meet you". [] said that it was obvious that [] had been told all about him. He said plans were made that night to make the trip by car four weeks later.

[] went on to state that a short time later, [] told him that he should meet one of the group from New Jersey. He said that early one Saturday, they drove out to New Jersey, with himself, ROBERT WOODCOCK, [] in the car. He said they travelled over the Bayonne Bridge, but cannot recall the location of the town. He said they drove to the house of a man identified as [] who he learned [] somewhere in New Jersey, and is also a member of Detachment B, 11th Special Forces, at Camp Kilmer, New Jersey. He noted that [] is a tall blond man. Upon arriving at his house, they all went to the basement where there were a large number of Army souvenirs on display. [] commented that they were all there for a common purpose, that there were two groups in New Jersey and their escape route was through the forest in Pennsylvania. [] also mentioned that they would have trouble transporting explosives.

[] advised that [] had brought a box with him which was determined to contain 50 practice hand grenades, and [] gave the grenades to [] to "fix up". [] explained that they had a connection in the arsenal at [] who would fill the grenades with black powder and thus bring their explosive power up to the usual level. One of them commented that it would take three or four days, and [] asked if [] had anything for them to take back with them. [] then gave them some caps to a C-3, but [] said he would not take them in the car as they were dangerous. They also discussed their communications setup, and [] mentioned that he could communicate by radio with three other groups within a 150 mile radius. [] stated that they had to get their own communications setup. [] said that they were able to test their explosives at the testing grounds of the arsenal on weekends and that demolition explosives were smuggled out of the arsenal by an employee named []

[] advised they drove back to Brooklyn, and he discovered [] had [] in the car. The [] were then given to [] said that [] went inside [] to discuss the matter and [] insisted on staying with the organization [] [] said this group is too weird and far out, and he wanted to get out.

[redacted] advised that about a week after the visit to [redacted] house, [redacted] displayed to him a commando dagger with brass knuckles attached.

He also stated that it was four weeks after this trip to see [redacted] that [redacted] was arrested by the New York City Police with other members of the "Minutemen". He said he heard about it first when [redacted] telephoned him, and on this occasion, he asked [redacted] the direct question whether he also was a "Minuteman". [redacted] however, would give him no direct answer. He advised that in all of their previous conversations, the name of "Minutemen" was never used and he first realized their connection with this organization [redacted]. He

[redacted] advised that shortly before [redacted] arrest, [redacted]

[redacted] in this connection, he also recalled that [redacted] told him that the group had a rifle team and that the Government furnished them their ammunition free to practice with.

[redacted] stated that about four days after [redacted] arrest, [redacted] told him that [redacted] had pulled strings and got him out on bail. He said that [redacted] mentioned [redacted] name on several occasions and he considers it a possibility that [redacted] might be involved with the group. However, he had no specific knowledge on this point. He noted that [redacted] is a [redacted]

He advised he has had no further contact with the group since that time, but that he believes that [redacted] is still in touch with [redacted]. He declared that during all of his conversations with [redacted] the name of "Minutemen" was not mentioned at any time until [redacted] arrest. He said that the whole basis of the approach of these men was to discuss means of protecting their families in the event of an emergency, that they explained their possession of weapons as being necessary for their defense and at no time did they indicate they desired to take any offensive action.

With reference to [redacted] he advised that [redacted] He said that [redacted] on one occasion told him that a raid was conducted on this farm by the FBI and a large quantity of military gear and equipment was located. According to [redacted] [redacted] was able to explain his possession of this material on the ground that it was excess, and no action was taken against him.

T-1 learned that three places were selected for caches of C-rations, ammunition and smoke and hand grenades. They were at Plum Beach, Rockaway, and at South Beach. The ammunition was to consist of whatever was needed for the firearms owned by the group.

NY 62-12699

The group had a contact in Upstate New York, whose identity T-1 was unable to determine. The contact had a source who could furnish converters to convert carbines to full automatic for $25.00; however, this was disregarded because they claimed ball ammunition for the carbine is no longer being manufactured.

T-1 stated the group planned to take a trip by automobile on November 4, 1966, to visit [redacted] during which time they would do a background study of the area including the "safe areas", food caches and cabins. They were to make the trip in hunting clothes with hunting licenses furnished by [redacted] (LNU).

They were to purchase two or three RS 109's from [redacted] for $25.00 each, and bring them back to New York.

T-1 learned [redacted] called [redacted] after the arrest of [redacted] in October, 1966, and told him not to make further contact with him.

It is understood that [redacted] first met [redacted] Kearney, New Jersey, telephone [redacted] during summer camp in 1966. [redacted] name had been given to [redacted] and [redacted]

Since above-referenced airtel, the following is noted for your information. The Minutemen group continues to be headquartered in Norborne, Missouri, and Robert DePugh is still the self-styled leader. DePugh, during the first few months of the year, traveled to various cities throughout the country making speeches on behalf of the Patriotic Party, which group he founded as the political arm of the Minutemen. He has announced that the Patriotic Party will hold their annual convention in Kansas City, Missouri, July 2, 3, and 4, 1967. Indications are that the Patriotic Party has been a disappointing venture for DePugh and the Minutemen and some Minutemen leaders feel that the organization has no place for a political party. It is, of course, a source of revenue for DePugh and the Minutemen, and, therefore, it is anticipated that he will attempt to keep it alive.

Information has recently been received that DePugh fears a crackdown on Minutemen weapons by means of raids by authorities during the month of August, 1967. He has urged all members to prepare their weapons for storage and hide them now. This, of course, will mean that many illegal as well as legal weapons will be cached in various remote places. It is incumbent on all offices that the whereabouts and contents of these caches be discovered. The most logical method of accomplishing this is through an increased penetration of the organization by the use of informants.

We have recently received information disclosing that many racists have joined or are participating in the activities of the Minutemen. This includes former members of the United Klans of America, the American Nazi Party, the National States Rights Party, other racist hate groups, and those mentally unstable individuals who are naturally attracted to violent action groups. It is imperative that information concerning those individuals be disseminated to interested Federal agencies both locally and at the Seat of Government. Henceforth, you should follow the outlines set forth in Section 122 of the Manual of Instructions dealing with individuals in your investigation of and reporting on members of the Minutemen. If they fit the criteria set forth in Section 122, individual cases should be opened and summary reports furnished for dissemination concerning these persons. The title of these cases should consist of subject's name and aliases, followed by the character, INTERNAL SECURITY - MISCELLANEOUS (MINUTEMEN)."

The various subheadings of the summary reports as set forth in Section 122 may be changed to fit this organization, thus the title "Connection With Klan and Hate-Type Organizations" should be changed to read "Connection With Minutemen and Hate-Type Organizations," or the title "Statements By Subject Concerning Violence and Activity in Racial Situations" should be changed to "Statements By Subject Concerning Violence."

Communications carrying the title and character of the Minutemen should henceforth be changed to read "MINUTEMEN, INTERNAL SECURITY - MISCELLANEOUS."

During the course of your continuing investigation of the Minutemen, you should remain alert for information pertaining to the source of Minutemen funds as well as counterintelligence proposals dealing with the organization and members.

You should also include in communications concerning this group and its members sufficient identifying material on the weapons possessed by them so that they can be searched

He advised that [redacted] ROBERT WOODCOCK, joined the 11th Special Forces Group Reserve Unit at Miller Army Airfield about a year ago, and became friendly with [redacted] and [redacted] who were also members of this group. He advised that during the Summer of 1966, [redacted] ROBERT WOODCOCK and himself went to a tavern in Staten Island to have a few beers. He stated a discussion developed with [redacted] doing most of the talking. He recalled that [redacted] spoke about the possibility of a rebellion being started by the Black Muslims or the Communist Party, and what steps could be taken to protect their families if this should occur. He mentioned that they could evacuate their families to a safe area, by air, land or by boat. He dismissed air travel because none of them could pilot a plane, and he also eliminated land travel since, if there was such a rebellion, presumably the roads would be blocked and this left only evacuation by boat. He brought out that ROBERT WOODCOCK was experienced in handling boats because of his previous experience with the Commandos while in the Army, while he, [redacted] could take care of the communications. When asked by [redacted] with whom he would communicate, [redacted] replied that they had connections in Vermont, that they had a doctor, supplies and caches in Vermont. He stated that [redacted] then said there was a converted sub chaser, the "Elmar II", in Sheepshead Bay, which was owned by two brothers, one of whom was dead, and it was being held in port because of a legal dispute. [redacted] stated that the Captain was not "with us", but that he could force the Captain at gunpoint to do as he directed, and added that the First Mate would handle the boat since he was in on the deal. [redacted] advised that he objected to this whole idea, that it was illegal and would involve them all in a great deal of trouble, and it was then agreed they would drop this plan. He said that he learned later from [redacted] that they said this to keep him satisfied, but that privately they still retained their plans for the seizure of this vessel.

[redacted] advised that he met with these three men on two or three other occasions, and plans for an evacuation of themselves and their families were discussed further. He said it was decided that they would hire a boat and make a test run with an unnamed friend of [redacted] doing the navigating and [redacted] operating the boat. Under this arrangement, [redacted] was to be picked up at Breezy Point, and [redacted] at Graham Beach in Staten Island. He stated that this trial run was made some time in September, 1966, as planned, but that it turned out to be a foggy day and it was further determined that the boat used was not large enough for their purposes.

He advised that shortly afterwards, they all met again in a tavern in Staten Island, and the question came up as where they would move their families. He said that [redacted] declared they would go to the White Mountains in Vermont, that they would camp out and he had connections in this area. He further said they would test out their plan by land. He identified his connection in Vermont as [redacted] (phonetic), who he said owns about 40 acres in that state. [redacted] told them further that they had medical supplies in a room in Vermont and that if 50 men are evacuated by boat, they had supplies to take care of them. He also said that they had 50 other individuals from Pennsylvania whom they would join, and that there was a Forest Ranger in Vermont who has the plans of a park in the White Mountains, which pinpoints the location of emergency areas and caches provided by the state for emergencies. [redacted] also told them that there were a total of 300 in their groups, all with separate caches, that they would be unable to hold off the enemy by themselves and needed the others, and furthermore, that they had firearms for this purpose.

[redacted] declared that [redacted] had three .30 caliber machine guns and ammunition, up in Vermont, and [redacted] noted that he learned later that the ammunition had been taken from various firing ranges. Also mentioned by [redacted] on this occasion was that their group had about 100 rifles and carbines, and when they made their trip, they were to meet [redacted] in Berlin, which he said was either in New Hampshire or Vermont. [redacted] said that [redacted] was in a Special Forces group in Vermont, and to demonstrate that there was such a person, [redacted] made a long distance call from this tavern, the Keyboard Lounge, and

He also stated that it was four weeks after this trip to see [redacted] that [redacted] was arrested by the New York City Police with other members of the "Minutemen". He said he heard about it first when [redacted] telephoned him, and on this occasion, he asked [redacted] the direct question whether he also was a "Minuteman". NY T-1 stated that [redacted] joined the United States Army, 11th Special Forces Group, Miller Army Air Field, Staten Island, New York, during May, 1966. Approximately one week after joining the unit, [redacted] was approached by [redacted] and [redacted] who talked to him about patriotism, gun legislation and recent Supreme Court decisions.

The following Saturday evening, [redacted] and [redacted] went to [redacted]'s house. They discussed forming a team to formulate plans for the escape and evacuation of themselves, their families and friends in the event of a race riot, civil war, or the takeover of the Federal Government by Communists. T-1 learned that three places were selected for caches of C-rations, ammunition and smoke and hand grenades. They were at Plum Beach, Rockaway, and at South Beach. The ammunition was to consist of whatever was needed for the firearms owned by the group.

The group had a contact in Upstate New York, whose identity T-1 was unable to determine. The contact had a source who could furnish converters to convert carbines to full automatic for $25.00; however, this was disregarded because they claimed ball ammunition for the carbine is no longer being manufactured.

The cache at South Beach was to be under the

He also had friends who were Conservation Agents who have told him where cabins with food and medical supplies are located for stranded mountain climbers. [redacted] allegedly had a cache of supplies including firearms, ammunition and also had "safe houses" where persons could be hidden.

[redacted] allegedly had Model RS 109 radios which [redacted] told T-1 are the latest radios available to Special Forces Reserve Units. Although they cost the Army approximately $2,500.00 each, [redacted] claimed he could buy them surplus for $25.00

T-1 stated the group planned to take a trip by automobile on November 4, 1966, to visit [redacted] during which time they would do a background study of the area including the "safe areas", food caches and cabins. They were to make the trip in hunting clothes with hunting licenses furnished by [redacted] (LNU).

They were to purchase two or three RS 109's from [redacted] for $25.00 each, and bring them back to New York.

T-1 learned [redacted] called [redacted] after the arrest of [redacted] in October, 1966, and told him not to make further contact with him.

It is understood that [redacted] first met [redacted] Kearney, New Jersey, telephone [redacted] during summer camp in 1966. [redacted] name had been given to [redacted] by [redacted] and [redacted]

NY 62-12699

T-1 heard that everyone laughed about [redacted] arrest and did not seem concerned about any possible unfavorable publicity the Reserve Unit might receive.

On one occasion, [redacted] and [redacted] talked to Sergeant Major [redacted] about joining their group but [redacted] declined. T-1 heard [redacted] later approached [redacted] about starting their own group.

About one week after [redacted] arrest, [redacted] was approached by Sergeant [redacted] who wanted to form a group of his own for the purpose of blowing up embassies, the Russian and Polish Embassies having been mentioned. T-1 learned [redacted] told [redacted] "you are out of your mind, everyone is being watched;" to which [redacted] replied "now we have a scapegoat. The Minutemen will get the blame".

During February, 1967, radio equipment was stolen from the Reserve Unit. In connection with this theft, T-1 stated he learned [redacted] was interviewed by Lieutenant Colonel [redacted] concerning the statement he had previously furnished the Federal Bureau of Investigation about the theft indicating he had seen [redacted] in the vicinity of the radio section the weekend before the theft of the radios was discovered and who ever took the stuff knew what they were doing because only specific radio equipment was taken. T-1 stated he heard that on May 3, 1967, Sergeant [redacted] (phonetic) went to Lieutenant Colonel [redacted] farm to get C-rations but would not say where he dropped them off.

[redacted] told [redacted] that [redacted] place had been raided but nothing was done because [redacted] stated the supplies were there because men from his unit train there or would take the supplies as needed.

[redacted] told T-1 he saw [redacted] Street, [redacted] Brooklyn, New York telephone number UL 3-0723, an employee of the [redacted] right after [redacted] arrest. [redacted] had photographs of [redacted] one of the "Minutemen" arrested, training with [redacted] Reserve Unit about two years ago.

[redacted] went to [redacted] house shortly after [redacted] arrest and a second time during January, 1967. During their conversation, [redacted] told [redacted] they should go into the Communist Party (CP). [redacted] asked [redacted] if he wanted to infiltrate the CP. [redacted] replied "no, lets see what they have to offer". [redacted] was opposed to the idea. He later saw [redacted] at which time [redacted] asked [redacted] "did you get into the Party yet". [redacted] then stated he has attended a few CP meetings but "there is nothing there".

T-1 stated he learned from the [redacted] that they were opposed to the "Minutemen" because the organization was "too extreme". [redacted] denied "Minutemen" membership when questioned by the [redacted] although [redacted] admitted he and [redacted] knew all of the "big shots" in the "Minutemen" in the New York and New Jersey area and on one occasion, [redacted] admitted he had been approached to train "Minutemen." T-1 stated [] did not know the identities of the 200 persons to be evacuated by the group but stated one of the persons was a [] of schools who was in favor of the evacuation but was not a "Minutemen". []

[] Others to be evacuated were relatives and friends of those planning the evacuation.

The group was to be completely self-sustaining as various professions including a doctor and nurse were to be in the group.

T-1 heard that [] met an unknown individual who is [] at [] house who allegedly could furnish information to [] presumably to hijack an armored truck if it became necessary to obtain funds in a hurry. ReBuairtel to Albany, et al, dated 6/12/67.

In reairtel, the Bureau advised the "Minutemen" anticipate a crackdown on "Minutemen" weapons through raids by local authorities during August, 1967. Members have been urged to prepare their weapons for storage and hide them now. It is incumbent that the location and contents of these caches be discovered.

The Patriotic Party, which was founded as the political arm of the "Minutemen", will hold its second annual convention on 7/2,3 and 4/67, in Kansas City, Missouri.

Communications concerning the "Minutemen" and its members should contain sufficient identifying data on their weapons so they can be searched through and entered in the Bureau's National Crime Information Center.

Recent information reflects racists, including members of the United Klans of America, the American Nazi Party and the National States Rights Party are joining or participating in "Minutemen" activities. Information concerning the activities of these individuals must be prepared in form suitable for dissemination to interested Federal agencies locally and at the Seat of Government. If individuals fit the criteria set forth in Section 122, Manual of Instructions (Racial Matters), individual cases will be opened and summary reports must be furnished for dissemination concerning these persons. Title should consist of the subject's name and aliases with the character "Internal Security - Miscellaneous (Minutemen)".

During the course of investigation of individual "Minutemen", you should be alert to information concerning the source of "Minutemen" funds, caches of arms and ammunition and possible counterintelligence proposals.

Increased penetration of the "Minutemen" by use of informants is essential. All agents conducting interviews of "Minutemen" should be alert to the possibility of developing the individual as a potential security informant.

The results of "Minutemen" interviews should be set forth on FD 302s.

It is noted several cases have been opened on the "Minutemen" for interviews on SAC authority with a view toward getting information on activities of the "Minutemen" in various areas of the NYO and for possible PSIs in the "Minutemen".

If it is determined that any of these individuals are active in the "Minutemen" and have propensity toward violence and generally fit the criteria set forth under Section 122, M of I, a summary report should be prepared and the Supervisor of #43 should be advised that such is being done.

SAC authority is required to interview rank and file members and officers up to but not including state level. If the official is at or above state level or is employed in the radio, television, newspaper or educational field, Bureau authority is required for interview.

If it is determined that the subject is in law enforcement, no interview should be conducted and instructions set forth in Section 122, M of I, dealing with "Infiltration of Law Enforcement", should be followed.

Two agents are required when conducting interviews of members of the "Minutemen".

The group formulated a plan for evacuation by water. Converted World War II submarine chasers docked in Sheepshead Bay, including the "Elmar II", were chosen as the ships the group would take.

All information contained herein from NY T-4 was furnished on May 17 - 18, 1967.

NY T-4 advised the "Victory", "Effort", "American", and "Ranger" were also considered. [redacted] considered taking over the "Coney Island" operated by the New York City Department of Public Works.

The plan called for the group to go aboard the ship wearing their Special Forces uniforms and exhibit forged Government papers reflecting the group had authority to take over the ship. [redacted] indicated that if there was any trouble from the crew of the ship, they should be killed.

After taking over the ship, the ship was to pick up passengers and caches of food, firearms, and ammunition. Caches were to be located at Plum Beach, Rockaway, and South Beach, New York.

b7C

The ship was then to travel to Berlin, New Hampshire, where the passengers would go ashore for travel to an area in the White Mountains. NY T-3 learned that [] disposed of a radio transmitter, receiver, and power pack marked 7th Battalion, 66th Armor on Staten Island, and two boxes of 250 rounds of 30 caliber M1 ammunition by dumping them behind a Catholic school on Gerritsen Avenue, Gerritsen Beach, Brooklyn, New York, on October 30, 1966.

[] gave [] a rifle from [] approximately one week before [] arrest, telling [] that the group had a rifle team which gets free ammunition from the Government for practice.

NY T-3 stated [] informed [] that Lieutenant Colonel [] Staten Island, New York, and a [] had pulled strings to get him out on bail.

✓ NY T-4 advised [redacted] and [redacted] talked to [redacted] (New Jersey) about joining their group, but he declined. NY T-4 heard [redacted] later approached [redacted] about starting their own group.

About one week after [redacted] arrest, [redacted] was approached by [redacted] (New York), who wanted to form a group of his own for the purpose of blowing up embassies, the Russian and the Polish Embassies having been mentioned. [redacted] commented that since the Minutemen were arrested, they had a scapegoat and the Minutemen would get blamed.

NY T-4 stated that it is common knowledge that after maneuvers, excess ammunition and C-rations have been taken to the farm owned by the Unit's Commanding Officer, [redacted] (Post Office Box [redacted] New Jersey). After summer camp, 1966, [redacted] (First Name Unknown) [redacted] took a load of ammunition to the farm. NY T-4 stated he heard that on May 3, 1967, [redacted] got C-rations from the farm but would not say where he transported them.

On May 24, 1967, NY T-1 advised that, in his opinion, most of the Unit officers were aware of the existence of the barn; however, only supplies that must be used or destroyed and cannot be turned back in, have been stored in the barn. Rather than destroy the supplies, they have been stored in the barn and used when needed. NY T-1 stated that, to his knowledge, everything stored in the barn was excess, and there was no attempt, on the part of persons in the Unit, to convert the supplies to their own personal use.

On June 8, 1967, NY T-1 advised a mandatory class was held on June 4, 1967, at which time Army Regulations dealing with the handling of classified information, were read. [redacted] then spoke. In his speech, he stated that there seemed to be an undercurrent of some type of organization in the Unit like the Minutemen. He stated there was no room in the Unit for any organization whether it represented the left or right wing, and requested any officer who had knowledge to this effect to furnish the information to the Unit's intelligence officer.

NY T-1 stated that during December, 1966, approximately three weeks before the Command Material Maintenance Inspection in January, 1967, the 11th Special Forces Group, Signal Company's Transaction File disappeared. One week before the inspection, the Signal Company's Property Book disappeared. Sometime between February 13 - 18, 1967, radio equipment was stolen from the Signal Company. NY T-4 advised that after the theft of the radio equipment, [redacted] was interviewed by [redacted], at which time [redacted] informed [redacted] that he had gotten off parole and did not want to get into trouble. [redacted] admitted that he had failed to reflect his prior criminal record on his Reserve enlistment papers when enlisting in the Unit.

NY T-4 advised that although [redacted] and [redacted] denied Minutemen membership, [redacted] admitted that he and [redacted] knew all of the Minutemen "big shots" in the New York and New Jersey area, and, on one occasion, [redacted] admitted he was approached to train Minutemen.

On June 9, 1967, [redacted] [redacted] North Atlantic Region, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, 90 Church Street, New York City, advised that on the basis of name and address, there was no record of the following having Federal firearms dealers' licenses, firearms registered in the National Firearms Registration File, or having been involved in the interstate shipment of firearms:

ReEPairtel to Director 6/21/67, KCairtel to Director 7/5/67, and NYairtel to Director 7/10/67.

For offices not already in receipt of this information, the following is noted. A Minutemen bulletin dated 6/5/67 disclosed that at least three training sessions would be conducted by the Minutemen this summer. Each session will last from seven to ten days. The first will be held in the central states area starting "July 6." Another will be held in the eastern states area around the first of August and the third will be held in the western states area around the last of August. The training would include classroom work in field operations including sabotage, care and use of small arms, explosives and demolitions, and strategy and tactics of guerrilla warfare.

Above referenced El Paso airtel discloses that self-proclaimed [redacted] stated that he was trying to attend a Minutemen summer camp in Englewood, Colorado, during the "latter part of June." The camp would be known as "Soldiers of the Cross." It is noted that while the dates conflict and [redacted] has made many irresponsible remarks in the past, nevertheless, this may be one of the training sites mentioned in the Minutemen bulletin.

Airtel to SAC, Cincinnati
RE: MINUTEMEN
62-107261

Above referenced Kansas City airtel discloses information from [] who attended the July 2-4 convention of the Patriotic Party. The information went on to describe an east coast Minutemen training session to be held about the first of August in Pennsylvania on a 40,000 acre strip mining region north of Minersville, Pennsylvania. b7D

Philadelphia and Denver should attempt to pinpoint the locations of these training sites as expeditiously as possible and advise the Bureau and Kansas City of their locations.

It is noted that a training session was held in the basement of the Patriotic Party headquarters starting on 7/5/67. It may be that this is the "central states" session.

The information concerning the sites of the training camps should be furnished in form suitable for dissemination and within the bounds of security, furnished to appropriate local authorities.

New York should advise Philadelphia as to whether any reason exists why the information from [] cannot be utilized in LHM form and what paraphrasing, if any, is needed. b7D

Kansas City should, through its sources, attempt to verify or disprove Englewood, Colorado, as the site of a Minutemen training session and also ascertain whether the training session held at Patriotic Party headquarters was one of the three. Handle promptly.

New York airtel to the Bureau, dated 5/4/67, points out that the Special Investigations Bureau (SIB) has been and is conducting hearings concerning the "Minutemen" under the direction of [REDACTED] Assistant New York State Attorney General. This airtel points out that the results of the investigation to date indicate there are very few "hard core" members of the "Minutemen" in the State of New York.

Information contained in this report supplements data contained in report of SA [REDACTED] dated 4/28/67 at Buffalo, and report of SA JACK W. SUNDERLAND, dated 6/6/67 at Buffalo.

[REDACTED] Lockport, New York, was interviewed on 6/6/67 by SA [REDACTED]

Concerning attempts of the Buffalo Division to develop and place an informant within the "Minutemen" organization, the following is noted:

During June 1966, [REDACTED] [REDACTED] Buffalo, New York, corresponded with the Buffalo Office indicating that he had recently received a letter from the "Minutemen," however, was not aware of anyone who belongs to this organization or who would send him literature.

To evaluate the possible potential of [REDACTED] as an individual who could be encouraged to correspond with the "Minutemen" organization and possibly gain the confidence of someone in authority, [REDACTED] was interviewed under appropriate pretext on 2/28/67, at which time he displayed an excellent attitude toward the United States Government and this Bureau. During this interview, however, with [REDACTED] he volunteered that he was arrested by [REDACTED]

Referenced report of SA [redacted] dated 6/6/67, points out that [redacted] Town of Amherst, New York, was interviewed on 5/2/67, at which time he indicated there is no active "Minutemen" organization in the Buffalo area at this time. [redacted] attitude during this interview eliminated the possibility that he should be considered for further consideration as a possible source or informant.

b7c

New York letter to the Bureau, 5/25/67, captioned "MINUTEMEN, INFORMATION CONCERNING (INTERNAL SECURITY)," identifies between 15 and 20 individuals who were identified from the contents of a "Minutemen" correspondence file maintained by MILTON A. KELLOGG, Syracuse, New York. The file was seized by officers of the New York State Police and the New York City Police Department on 10/30/66 while executing a search warrant issued for KELLOGG's residence. According to information furnished Buffalo in that letter, these persons should be considered as members of the "Minutemen" organization or as individuals who appear to be interested in its activities. The Buffalo Office has opened individual case files on these persons to collect background information with a view toward interviewing them and evaluating their potential as sources or informants.

[redacted] Lockport, New York, advised that he has had no contact with the "Minutemen" organization in about three years and had only contacted the "Minutemen" organization at that time so that he could receive literature that would further familiarize him with the aims and objectives of the organization. [redacted] said that he is not a member of the "Minutemen" organization and never has been. [redacted] said he had been subpoenaed to testify in Buffalo, New York, a week or so ago before a New York State Committee inasmuch as his name had appeared on a mailing list that was in the possession of a person arrested in New York City or Syracuse, New York, sometime ago. [redacted] said that he does not want any part of the organization "Minutemen."

ReTPairtel 7/22/67 concerning arrangements for meeting and transportation for those attending Minutemen training school 8/1/67.

For the information of Tampa, the Bureau and all pertinent offices are presently in possession of information pertaining to the training session as mentioned. Informant coverage is presently effected.

In view of the fact that those attending the training session are to meet at Frankhouser's home prior to the session itself, Philadelphia should remain alert for counterintelligence measures which may arise out of this facet as well as the training session itself.

Philadelphia should also remain alert for the possibility of one or more of these persons attending this training session may wish to get the group or themselves involved in racial strife on the east coast during the next several weeks.

Philadelphia insure that all information developed to date regarding the training session has been furnished to the Bureau in form suitable for dissemination and furnished locally to interested Federal agencies prior to the start of the training session.

According to FRANKHOUSER, a member of his group has a license which permits him to purchase dynamite. These arms plus ammunition and "Minutemen" stationary are burried at several locations in the vicinity of Reading, PA.

FRANKHOUSER also stated to the source that he, FRANKHOUSER, has the frequency for radios utilized by State, County and local police agencies in his area and that he monitors their calls. FRANKHOUSER requested the source to accept the assignment of ascertaining the radio frequencies of the FBI and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division of the US Treasury Department. FRANKHOUSER indicated he must have these frequencies.

FRANKHOUSER further advised the source that his "Minutemen" group had formulated plans to bomb Camp Midvale in New Jersey. However, the New York unit of the "Minutemen" had beaten them to it by one week.

FRANKHOUSER stated his group utilizes the address of Box 3511 Laureldale, Reading, Pa. When writing to this address the letter should be directed to [redacted] Pennsylvania State Coordinator of the "Minutemen".

[redacted] advised that [redacted] from New Jersey, was in attendance at the Patriotic Party Convention. [redacted] stated that he has a "Minutemen" cell in New Jersey and that one member of this cell is capable of operating radio equipment.

b6
b7C
b7D

Regarding [redacted] advised the he is under suspicion by "Minutemen" members at the Convention. It was noted by these members that [redacted] uses a tape recorder and takes copious notes.

[redacted] has had private discussions with BOB DE PUGH, leader of the "Minutemen". In these discussions, DE PUGH has indicated he is considering the source for a position of leadership in the "Minutemen" in the NYC area.

NY 62-12699

DE PUGH exhibited a great deal of interest in the source's knowledge of electronics. He instructed the source to prepare radio equipment with at least a 1500 mile range.

[] stated that he has been offered full time employment with the "Minutemen" traveling throughout the country acting as a courier and conducting surveillances of suspected members. The source was told there is a desperate need for people to do this job. The source would receive no salary but all expenses would be paid by the "Minutemen".

b7D

[] advised that there are from 15 to 18 individuals attending the "Minutemen" training course which started on 7/5/67, and is being held in the basement of the Patriotic Party Headquarters.

In connection with an Eastern States Resistance Warfare Training Program, the source was instructed to obtain an Armalite AR 2 rifle. This is a 22 caliber rifle which folds into its stock. Source was told this weapon is desirable because the "Minutemen" have been able to convert this weapon into a machine gun. It was suggested that one source for this weapon is a sporting goods store located on Truman Road in Independence, Missouri.

While at Patriotic Party Headquarters, the source observed a map of the United States which was marked with green pins.

The heaviest concentration of pins were in Southern California and Pennsylvania. On the overall map there was a concentration of pins which ran in a wide band extending from the Los Angeles, California area to Pennsylvania. There was a pin for Syracuse, New York, and one for Buffalo, New York. However, there was no pin for New York City. The source believed this to be a map indicating by pins the location of units of the "Minutemen".

NY 62-12699

Through a friendship source cultivated with FRANKHOUSER, source was entrusted to deliver to BOB DE PUGH for his corrections or additions, the plans for the Eastern States Resistance Warfare Training Program, which is to start on 8/1/67 and run for a period of 10 days. The source was able to utilize the facilities of the Kansas City Office where xerox copies of these plans were made prior to returning them to FRANKHOUSER.

Source also intercepted and had copies made of a letter from FRANKHOUSER addressed to [redacted] Network Commander. In this letter FRANKHOUSER advised he was sending samples to [redacted]. According to the source, these samples consisted of a booklet containing plans for constructing machine guns, information on poisons and a formula for a bomb. FRANKHOUSER indicated these were samples from tons of material he would pack and send to [redacted].

The above information is a summary of data obtained by [redacted]. More detailed information regarding the above will be furnished in reports which will be dictated by source following his return to New York. Appropriate dissemination will be made from source's dictated reports.

For the information of all offices, [redacted] has advised that the Eastern States Training Program will commence 8/1/67, near Minersville, Pa., rather than the second week in August as stated in reairtel.

[redacted] further advised that Captain SHAWN LE ROY FITZPATRICK O'NEILL, as mentioned in reairtel, is the code name for ROY FRANKHOUSER.

Attention is directed to page 1, paragraph 3, of the one page letter forwarded as one of the enclosures to reairtel. [redacted] advised that the "samples" referred to in paragraph three consisted of a booklet containing plans for constructing a machine gun, information on poisons and a formula for a bomb.

ReBuairtel to Albany, et al, dated 6/12/67.

By re airtel the Bureau instructed that Minutemen investigations should be conducted in accordance with the instructions set forth in Section 122 of the Manual of Instructions. The following is a summary of Section 122 to be followed when conducting investigations of individual Minutemen.

A. INVESTIGATION OF INDIVIDUALS

1. The individual investigated must be an officer, leader, active worker, or an individual who in the past has committed acts of violence or possess a definite potential for future acts of violence. Individuals investigated should be those key personnel who have the propensity for violence or who actually formulate and carry out the organizations policies and not individuals who merely attend meetings regularly.

2. Prior Bureau authority is required to conduct an investigation on a prominent individual.

B. INITIAL REPORT

A pending-inactive nonprosecutive summary report should be submitted to the Bureau upon completion of the investigation setting forth, though not limited to the following:

1. Background

- a) Birth, date and place
- b) Residence
- c) Employment
- d) Military service
- e) Selective service status
- f) Education
- g) Credit

- j) Physical description
- k) Close associates, business and social.
- l) Special abilities including knowledge of weapons, explosives, radios and electronics.
- m) Photograph (*)
- n) Make and model of automobile. (*)
(*) Reasonable effort should be made to obtain above during normal course of investigation, however, no extensive investigation should be undertaken to obtain same.
- o) Results of interview of subject. An effort should be made to interview the subject prior to submission of first report.

- 2. Connection with the Minutemen.
- 3. Information regarding the subject's propensity for violence.
- 4. Miscellaneous - information concerning the subject not set forth in any of the above categories.

C. ANNUAL REPORT

After submission of initial report an annual pending-inactive nonprosecutive summary report should be submitted if the subject continues to fall within the criteria set forth above. This report should contain the following:

- 1. Residence
- 2. Employment
- 3. Current position in organization
- 4. Automobile- if information is readily available.
- 5. Summary of subject's activities during past year.
- 6. Miscellaneous pertinent information developed concerning the subject not set forth in above categories, including results of reinterview of subject if applicable.

D. PERIODIC EVALUATION

Six months after initial report the case should be reopened and the following should be done:

1. Determine the subject's present status in the Minutemen.
2. Review file to determine if subject still falls within category set forth above.
3. Verify residence and employment.
4. If there is any change in the subject's status and/or activity and he continues to fit in the category set forth for investigation of individuals the following should be done:
 - a) No communication should be sent to the Bureau.
 - b) Results should be set forth on memo to file.
 - c) Case should be placed in pending-inactive status until annual report is due.
5. If subject is still active, but his residence, employment or some other pertinent fact has changed:
 - a) A letterhead memo should be prepared setting forth the change. The first paragraph of LHM should make reference to last report.
 - b) Case should be placed in pending-inactive status until next annual report is due.
6. Six month report must be submitted:
 - a) On individuals considered extremely active and having a propensity toward violence. This includes individuals who make statements re violence and/or who are suspected of taking part in violent acts.

E. REPORT WRITING

1. Nonprosecutive summary reports should follow the following outline:
 - a) I Background
II Affiliation With The Minutemen
III Propensity Toward Violence
IV Miscellaneous
V Description
 - b) Names of members attending meetings should not be set out in reports, but should be indexed from informants statements. Names of new members should be furnished the Bureau by letter for indexing purposes.

2. Copies of reports and LHM's should be disseminated as follows:

- 8-Bureau
- 1-Secret Service, NYC
- 1-Second OSI District, NYC
- 3-108th MI Group, NYC
- 1-NISO, NYC
- 1-ATTD, NYC
- 3-New York (reports), 1-copy of LHM's

F. CLOSING CASES

1. Details must contain results of informant check re subject's status in the Minutemen.
2. If the subject no longer fits the criteria for investigation the case should not be kept opened to obtain or develop incidental background information.
3. If an initial report has been submitted, the Bureau must be advised if a case is closed and the basis for the closing.

G. INTERVIEWS

1. SAC authority is required to interview if subject is:
 - a) A rank-and-file member up to but not including the state level.
 - b) To obtain SAC authority:
 - 1) Conduct credit, arrest, indices and informant checks.
 - 2) Prepare memo to SAC setting forth results of above checks and request authority for interview.
2. Bureau authority is required to interview if subject is:
 - a) Official at or above state level.
 - b) Employed in newspaper, radio, television or the educational field.
3. TWO AGENTS ARE REQUIRED WHEN CONDUCTING INTERVIEWS OF MEMBERS OF THE MINUTEMEN.

H. GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

1. Agents are not to attend functions or rallies of the Minutemen although they may be open to the public.
2. Information of an unusual nature, data concerning the stockpiling of firearms and ammunition, or information regarding possession of explosives should be expeditiously furnished the Bureau followed by an LHM suitable for dissemination.

3. Infiltration of law enforcement agencies - refer to instructions set forth in Section 122, M of I.
4. Informants - the Bureau has repeatedly advised that increased penetration of the Minutemen by informants at all levels of the organization is of primary importance. All subject's interviewed should be evaluated for their potential development as informants.

SUBJECT: MINUTE MAN GROUP
INFO CONCERNING

An individual, male, young voice and appeared to be very excited, telephonically contacted the NYO 11:20 am instant date. He stated that he had just came from a meeting of a MINUTE MAN unit and did not like what was going on. The group of approx. 22 individuals had made plans to attack busses which carried teenage Negroes to summer camps. The attack was planned in an area around Kent St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

The caller who refused to furnish his identity or ~~the~~ any other names, ~~XXXXXXXXXX~~ sounded as if he was out of breath from running. He would only use the name and indicated that he may call back. An attempt was made to get the caller to appear at the NYO, he was furnished the NYO address. He indicated that he was scared in that he had objected to this plan at the meeting. He further noted that the group had guns from Georgia.

The caller terminated the call without more details.

MINUTEMEN

On July 4, 1967, a confidential source advised that while attending the Second National Convention of the Patriotic Party in Kansas City, Kansas, ROY FRANKHOUSER of Reading, Pa., indicated that he was planning to conduct a Minutemen training session for the East Coast to be held in early August 1967, near Minersville, Pa.

A characterization of the Minutemen is attached.

In October 1965, a second source advised that ROY FRANKHOUSER was the leader of a group in Reading, Pa., known as "Free Corps." In this group he promoted some of the programs of the Minutemen; the American Nazi Party of which he had been a leader. He also included some of the beliefs and activities of the United Klans of America (UKA, KKKK) inasmuch as he was also the Grand Dragon for Pennsylvania.

In May 1966 this second source stated he believed FRANKHOUSER was "cracking up" mentally.

Characterizations of the American Nazi Party (ANP) and the UKA, KKKK, are attached.

On July 22, 1967, a third source advised that he had been invited by ROBERT DE PUGH, National head of the Minutemen, to participate in a training session for Eastern United States. No location was mentioned. He was advised to report to 133 South 4th Street, Reading, Pa., about [redacted] DE PUGH indicated in the invitation that he would be in attendance.

It is to be noted that the residence of ROY FRANKHOUSER in Reading, Pa., is 133 South 4th Street.

In April 1965, the second source advised that the Minutemen held a firearms training session in a desolate area five and one-half miles northwest of Minersville, Pa.

On July 24, 1967, the second source advised that he has learned no specific information concerning the proposed training session but has noted that some of the followers of FRANKHOUSER appear to be excited about something.

Thereafter, the first source advised that FRANKHOUSER is proceeding with plans for the session but had no specific additional information. Source said that ROGER HOFFMAN (pseudonym of RICHARD SINGLETON, active Minuteman in Reading, Pa.) stated, "If the FBI or anyone else tries to come into the training session, he will shoot to kill."

Captain [redacted] Reading Police Department, advised that ROY FRANKHOUSER appeared at the police station twice during the week of July 16, 1967, trying to make application to carry a gun. He was refused. He inquired what other steps he might take to obtain the license. He was told he could take it to court. Captain [redacted] said he had no information that FRANKHOUSER had taken the matter to court.

NATIONAL SOCIALIST WHITE PEOPLE'S PARTY
 aka The American Nazi Party; American Nazis;
 The World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists;
The George Lincoln Rockwell Party

In his book, "This Time The World", copyrighted in 1961, George Lincoln Rockwell identified himself as Commander, American Nazi Party of the World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists (ANP-WUFENS), Arlington, Virginia.

The April 4, 1963 issue of "The Richmond News Leader", a Richmond, Va., daily newspaper, reported that George Lincoln Rockwell, had, on the previous day, again applied for the American Nazi Party to be chartered in the State of Virginia, but this request was turned down by the Virginia State Corporation Commission. This action was taken pursuant to an act of the 1962 Virginia Assembly which prohibits use of "Nazi" or "National Socialism" in a Virginia charter. This article further pointed out that Rockwell's Party is presently chartered in the State of Virginia as the George Lincoln Rockwell Party.

On August 14, 1964, a source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that ANP-WUFENS was organized by George Lincoln Rockwell at his residence in Arlington, Va., on February 26, 1956, as an international "National Socialist" movement based on the German Nazi Party headed by Adolf Hitler. He added that Rockwell is the dominant force and personality in this Party; that he is espousing a "line" of hatred against the Jews and Negroes; and that he is seeking, through speeches, distribution of literature and picketing, to establish a cohesive and dominant political party in the United States and in foreign countries.

According to the "Stormtrooper's Manual", an official publication of the ANP, the phases of ANP struggle for power are fourfold, namely, first "to make ourselves known to the masses"; second, "the dissemination of our program and truth about the Party"; third, "organizing the people who have been converted to our propaganda"; and fourth, "the attainment of power through the votes of the newly won masses."

On August 19, 1964, the source advised that Rockwell is presently holding a "line" of hatred against the Jews and Negroes, and is seeking to establish a cohesive and dominant political party in the United States and in foreign countries. He stated that he is seeking to establish a cohesive and dominant political party in the United States and in foreign countries. He stated that he is seeking to establish a cohesive and dominant political party in the United States and in foreign countries.

CONFIDENTIAL

On December 27, 1966, the source advised that Rockwell mailed a communication to all members of the ANP entitled, "National Directive from the Commander, Effective 1/1/67". This communication reflected that the formal name of the Party would be "National Socialist White People's Party" and they would still be known as the "American Nazi Party" and "American Nazis" for short.

UNITED KLANS OF AMERICA, INC.
KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN (UNITED KLANS)

Records of Superior Court of Fulton County, Georgia, show that this Klan organization was granted a corporate charter on February 21, 1961 at Atlanta, Georgia, under the name United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc.

A source advised on February 27, 1961, that United Klans was formed as a result of a split in U. S. Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc. According to the source, the split resulted from a leadership dispute and United Klans has the same aims and objectives as the parent group. These are the promotion of Americanism, white supremacy and segregation of the races.

The first source and a second source advised in July, 1961, that United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., merged with Alabama Knights, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. The merged organization established headquarters in Suite 401, The Alston Building, Tuscaloosa, Alabama. The organization is directed by Robert Shelton, Imperial Wizard and is the dominant Klan group in the South with units in several southern states.

On August 14, 1961, the second source advised that the organization formerly known as United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., would be known in the future as United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. The second source stated the name was changed by a resolution adopted at the National Klans Convention held July 8, 1961, at Indian Springs, Georgia.

Second source advised that at a meeting at Prattville, Alabama, on October 22, 1961, a majority of the members of the U. S. Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan merged with the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Our reasoning is as follows: Three possibilities present themselves.

(1) The "Berks County Record," local newspaper, Reading, Pa., has in the past run an expose series on FRANK-ROUSSE. The paper would undoubtedly be delighted if we were to lead them to the present activity. We do not believe, however, that this could be done with safety, or that we could trust the paper not to disclose the FBI as their source.

(2) Police action could undoubtedly be initiated if we were to suggest it. We have alerted the MSP, the Reading PD, and the Minersville PD to the fact that the training session will be held. We also have discreetly ascertained that they do not have plans to make arrests at the training session. This information was obtained with need in mind to protect [redacted] from an [redacted]

[redacted]
Action by the Reading PD at FRANK-ROUSSE's home would be somewhat questionable. As matters stand at this time the Police Department has ~~little or no~~ ^{no} legal basis for arrests or the service of a search warrant. We will remain alert for any information that will give them a legal basis as out of towners may arrive.

Action by the State Police would have to await the actual start of the session and as matters now stand, will probably depend on whether they receive complaints from citizens regarding the training session which would either require them to move in or given them a definite excuse for moving in. Police action in the rural area where we believe this training session ^{will} take place would normally be handled by the MSP.

(3) We have in the past engaged in a Bureau-approved counterintelligence with the [redacted] of the "Evening Bulletin," [redacted] That organization had hate groups as the target. At that time [redacted] specifically asked if we could advise him if any Minutemen training session took place in our territory as he would like to cover it and expose it. As yet nothing has been taken up with [redacted] regarding

b7C

PH 157-447

instant session for the following reasons:

- (a) It is believed that we should at least permit the participants to gather, plan, and start the training session in the hope that we will be able to develop intelligence information including the identities and activities of the participants. Accordingly, it is our thinking that any information given to the "Bulletin" should not be furnished in advance of the session but should await the developments once it is underway.
- (b) If the "Bulletin" should expose the training session without the State Police taking action, the State Police would undoubtedly feel they are subject to criticism.
- (c) If arrests are made we again have a problem of the effect on the New York informant.

RECOMMENDATION:

For the reasons set forth above, it is Philadelphia's recommendation that we do not get into a counterintelligence operation at this time but that we remain alert for developments which indicate the desirability of advising one or another of the Police Departments of a specific situation on which they should and can take action. This office will not initiate such a counterintelligence operation in any event without first discussing the matter with the New York Office for their views on the protection of the informant and without clearing with the Bureau.

Attached photographs are in addition to those previously furnished Albany and other interested offices in the above case.

For the information of auxiliary offices the following explanatory notes are set forth with reference to the attached communications. Those letters addressed to "M" and signed "8310" are believed to be letters to MILTON KELLOGG of Syracuse, New York, described as Eastern Regional Coordinator of the Minutemen from JACK LYNN BOYCE whose Minutemen membership number is 8310. It is noted that BOYCE was in frequent communication with KELLOGG. The type-written letters addressed "Hello Friend" and unsigned are believed to be copies of letters sent by MILTON KELLOGG to JACK BOYCE since they were taken from the BOYCE's folder in the above referred to correspondence file.

NATIONAL SOCIALIST WHITE PEOPLE'S PARTY
Also Known As The American Nazi Party,
American Nazis, The World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists,
The George Lincoln Rockwell Party

In his book, "This Time The World", copyrighted in 1961, GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL identified himself as Commander, American Nazi Party of the World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists (ANP - WUFENS), Arlington, Virginia.

The April 4, 1963, issue of "The Richmond News Leader", a Richmond, Virginia daily newspaper, reported that GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL had, on the previous day, again applied for the American Nazi Party to be chartered in the State of Virginia, but this request was turned down by the Virginia State Corporation Commission. This action was taken pursuant to an act of the 1962 Virginia Assembly which prohibits use of "Nazi" or "National Socialism" in a Virginia charter. This article further pointed out that ROCKWELL's Party is presently chartered in the State of Virginia as the George Lincoln Rockwell Party.

On August 14, 1964, a source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that ANP-WUFENS was organized by GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL at his residence in Arlington, Virginia, on February 26, 1956, as an international "National Socialist" movement based on the German Nazi Party headed by ADOLF HITLER. He added that ROCKWELL is the dominant force and personality in this Party; that he is espousing a "line" of hatred against the Jews and Negroes; and that he is seeking, through speeches, distribution of literature and picketing, to establish a cohesive and dominant political party in the United States and in foreign countries.

According to the "Stormtrooper's Manual", an official publication of the ANP, the phases of ANP struggle for power are fourfold, namely, first "to make ourselves known to the masses"; second, "the dissemination of our program and truth about the Party"; third, "organizing the people who have been converted to our propaganda"; and fourth, "the attainment of power through the votes of the newly-won masses."

NATIONAL SOCIALIST WHITE

On August 19, 1966, the source advised that GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL presently believes that he has completed the first two phases in his struggle for power and is well into the third stage, to wit, "the organizing of the people who have been converted to our propaganda". The source added that ROCKWELL had previously believed that he would be elected Governor of Virginia in November, 1965, and when defeated, he made the statement that he was not ready for stage four.

On December 27, 1966, the source advised that ROCKWELL mailed a communication to all members of the ANP entitled, "National Directive from the Commander, Effective 1/1/67". This communication reflected that the formal name of the Party would be "National Socialist White People's Party" and they would still be known as the "American Nazi Party" and "American Nazis" for short.

UNITED KLANS OF AMERICA, INC.,
KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN

Records of Superior Court of Fulton County, Georgia, reflect that this Klan organization was granted a corporate charter on February 21, 1961, at Atlanta, Georgia, under the name United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc.

A source advised on February 27, 1961, that United Klans was formed as a result of a split in U. S. Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc. According to the source, the split resulted from a leadership dispute and United Klans has the same aims and objectives as the parent group. These are the promotion of Americanism, white supremacy, and segregation of the races.

The first source and a second source advised in July, 1961, that United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., merged with Alabama Knights, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. The merged organization established headquarters in Suite 401, the Alston Building, Tuscaloosa, Alabama. (The organization is directed by ROBERT SHELTON, Imperial Wizard, and is the dominant Klan group in the South, with units in several Southern states.)

Second source advised that at a meeting at Prattville, Alabama, on October 22, 1961, the U. S. Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, merged with the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Third source advised on August 4, 1965, that the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, is currently an active organization, with Klaverns in several Southern states. This source said that ROBERT M. SHELTON is the Imperial Wizard of this organization, and was last elected to this position on September 5, 1964, at a National Klonvocation in Birmingham, Alabama. Source said that the activity of the United Klans of America is increasing and that the national office remains in Suite 401, Alston Building, Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

Minutemen

On July 24, 1967, a confidential source advised she learned that Roy Frankhouser has an 8 mm. Mauser machine gun and a bazooka with armor piercing shells in the basement of his Reading, Pennsylvania home.

In October, 1965, a second confidential source advised that Roy Frankhouser was the leader of a group in Reading, Pennsylvania, known as "Free Corps". In this group he promoted some of the programs of the Minutemen and the American Nazi Party, of which he had been a leader. He also included some of the beliefs and activities of the United Klans of America (UKA, KKKK), inasmuch as he was also the Grand Dragon for Pennsylvania.

Characterizations of the American Nazi Party, the Minutemen, and the UKA, KKKK, appear in the Appendix attached hereto.

In May, 1966, this second source stated he believed Frankhouser was "cracking up" mentally.

In July, 1967, a third confidential source described Frankhouser as emotionally immature, highly emotional, unpredictable in behavior, and erratic in thought. He considers Frankhouser's mental and emotional state to be such that he is dangerous.

The first source further advised that Frankhouser is known to have stated that the Minutemen have a very large quantity of ammunition and a large amount of cash

He is a United States Army veteran with 14 years of military service. In late 1964, he directed a letter to ROBERT DE PUGH in Norborne, Missouri, in response to an advertisement he had seen in a magazine regarding the purchase and sale of rifles. Thereafter he received literature and an application for membership in the "MINUTEMEN" organization. He filled out this form and answered various questions on a questionnaire which he also received. He believed at this time that the "MINUTEMEN" was a true patriotic organization. A short time thereafter, an individual from Brooklyn, New York, came to his home to tell him about the "MINUTEMEN". This person, whose name he could not recall, explained to him exactly what the organization did and why it was formed. He was also advised of the rules and regulations which were required to be followed by any member. He then received the impression that the "MINUTEMEN" organization might resort to violence in order to correct a wrong which they believed might exist. He knew that this was unlawful and wanted no part of such activity.

He never officially became a member of the "MINUTEMEN" organization, and never paid as much as one dollar in dues or other fees. He made no further inquiries of this organization, but from time to time would receive literature in the mail. He received this literature for perhaps a year or two and then the literature no longer came to him.

In January or February, 1967, he was asked by the Office of the Attorney General of New York State, to appear at some informal hearings concerning the "MINUTEMEN". He went voluntarily to an office at 40 Worth Street, New York City, and told a group of men exactly what his former connection with the organization was. While they did not inform

A characterization of the Minutemen is attached.

PH T-1 advised on July 4, 1967 that the Minutemen would hold an East Coast training session near Minersville, Pennsylvania, commencing on or about August 1, 1967.

PH T-2 advised on August 10, 1967 that on July 23, 1967, [redacted] a Minutemen member from the New York area, arrived at [redacted] Reading, Pennsylvania, the home of Roy Frankhouser, a Minutemen member in Reading, Pennsylvania. The purpose of this visit was to assist Frankhouser with preparations for the forthcoming training session.

In connection with these preparations, Frankhouser
[redacted] spent the period from July 23, 1967 to July 31, 1967 performing such tasks as checking Frankhouser's residence for the presence of electronic listening devices, taking target practice, both indoors with an air pistol in Frankhouser's basement and outdoors with higher powered weapons, packing equipment for the scheduled Minutemen training session to be held the following week near Minersville, Pennsylvania, and monitoring official police radio calls of the Reading, Pennsylvania Police Department and the Berks County Police Department of Pennsylvania.

PH T-3 advised that during the early morning hours of August 2, 1967, it was decided that for security reasons, the original camp site for the Minutemen training session located near Minersville, Pennsylvania would be abandoned. A new site was selected, locality approximately three miles north of Ringtown, Pennsylvania and about 40 miles from the original site.

In addition to Frankhouser [redacted] previously mentioned, there were now eight other individuals at the training site outside Ringtown, Pennsylvania on August 2, 1967.

PH T-3 advised that on August 2, 1967 it was immediately announced that Frankhouser was to be camp commander [redacted] was designated as Frankhouser's [redacted] That first day, August 2, 1967, was occupied with camouflaging the camp site, listening to lectures on leadership and resistance warfare, and participating in a forced run under the direction of Frankhouser.

PH T-3 advised that the Minutemen training session had reportedly been split into three camps and that there were reportedly a total of 35 individuals participating in the training session near Ringtown.

PH T-3 further advised that on August 3, 1967, due to a heavy downpour of rain during the morning hours, the time was spent mainly listening to lectures on guerilla warfare, on survival techniques and trying out the camping equipment.

During a lunch period on the afternoon of August 3, 1967, a discussion began regarding President Lyndon B. Johnson and an unidentified Minutemen member present was heard to remark, "It would be a good idea if someone killed President Johnson". There was general agreement with this statement. However, there was nothing more specific said regarding this remark and no statement that anyone present or any member of the Minutemen would perform such a deed. There was merely general agreement that it was a good idea.

PH T-3 further advised that the training session continued until Sunday, August 6, 1967, and consisted mainly of guerilla warfare training. According to Frankhouser, no explosives, or illegal weapons such as machine guns and pistols were ever utilized at this training session in order to avoid any possible difficulties with law enforcement agencies.

At the conclusion of this training session on August 6, 1967, no announcement was made for any future Minutemen training sessions.

Dear

b6
b7c

Just got a long letter from you that said "write". So I'll probably have to spend an extra 30¢ for Special Delivery to get this to you before you head up here, but here goes.

Think I sent you a letter just a couple of days ago so you're probably up to date on the fren's condition and all my other problems. Nothing much has changed in that area. Go today to try and pass my driver's eye test but not much hope really. Don't know just what I'll do if I don't. Pass that bridge

The big story here is last week and which was spent at Dix playing guerrilla with the Special Forces.

Six of my "people" drove out to Hightstown, N. J. where we met up with three more then headed into the check-in point. This was on Friday night and we checked in at about 2300 on 4 June. There were two groups, the Aggressors and the guerrillas. We were assigned to the latter along with about 11 other civilians and a couple of SF boys in civvies. Loaded on a denco and a half with our gear we were driven out into the boondocks and dropped at a small encampment along with about 25 SF people. I ended up the O honcho, got my people bedded down and security guards posted. This was by about 0200 on 5 June. Guards were changed every half hour till we hauled ass at 0500 so while I got to lay down a couple of times I never got to sleep cause I had to be sure my people were functioning.

Two A teams were supposed to be dropped into the area and link up with us by 0600 but since snafu in the military's middle none they couldn't get the airplane then the boat or truck or something got lost or something and they didn't show until nearly 1100. The SF had one ANGRY KID for communications with ~~guerrilla~~ maneuver headquarters but no tactical radio. I had four CB portables so I appointed four radio people to carry these and thyned them over to SF commo. They were never used all day long. Two of them went on recon patrol with the A teams who were supposed to be back in by 1500. No one set up a sked for radio contact so we had noce with the A teams and they didn't get back in until after 1700.

Our objective was to overrun and destroy a compound about 200 by 350 metres. It was supposed to contain a vital generating station which we had to knock out in support of an invasion by the United States. (Supposedly New Jersey was an independent republic under the domination of an Aggressor nation).

(On the Aggressor side were about 40 people - half SF personnel and half civilians. The civilians had brought in two BARS, eight Madsen SMGs, and four PPSE-41s.....all rigged to fire blanks).

Most of Saturday (5 June) was spent in training classes - Patrolling, Demolitions, Security - and in patrolling or just security guard or just general confusion. We started out the morning with 22 Gs and by 1700 we could only locate 17 of them. (For all I know the rest are still wandering around in the boonies). Because we were strangers to the exercise and never well briefed on what was expected of us we were very poorly organized and never got organized. I blame this in part of the SF who really seemed to just be using us for props in their own theatrics to a large extent. I don't mean to sound too critical as they were actually a very nice bunch of guys and several of them did seem to go out of their way to work with us. But as an operation I don't feel we were well used in it.

By 1800 5 June we had worked out an operational order and developed our plan of attack. We ran through it in rehearsal a couple of times and then were supposed to sack in until 0200 6 June when we would move out for the staging area and then into the attack. Then someone switched signals and we were trucked out to the staging area beginning about 1900 and finally getting settled about 0200 6 June with our move up to the jump off point to begin at 0430. Oh yes, our transportation had failed to show up but we had captured a jeep, a 1/4 ton, and a jeep and a half during the day plus we had two civilian jeep station wagons.

Our weapons for the assault included 3 M16s but only one had a blank adapter. We had carbines (just two) and M1 rifles and a couple of bolt rifles and one double barrel shotgun with blanks. One of the SF boys had a french shotgun and a load of "shell crackers" (these throw a firecracker about like a cherry bomb out about 75 yards - they're great). Since we could only use the one M16 the two carbines were designated as M16s (I had one).

At 0430 we moved out. The approach was up a rough jeep trail and then thru the woods. We halled about the last 30 yards thru the woods and believe me I'm too fat for that kind of stuff but I made it. The the SF leader with us decided we could make it out into the field about another 100 yards. I thought he was crazy! But we made it (and I made it). The attack opened at 0600 with a diversion by two men we had managed to infiltrate thru the fence. Then the jeep and a half hit the gate with about 10 men aboard and our two M16s opened up from the field on the gate defenses which had been drawn away momentarily by the diversion. The balance of our people stormed across about 200 yards of open terrain to hit the compound after the truck.

Technically we won.

Personally I doubt that we'd have made significant it against their automatic weapons (though they had put most of them on two trucks out on support roads intending to hit us from the rear when we attacked. We got up two ambushes which successfully kept the trucks off our backs. It's actually impossible to judge whether our M16s might have suppressed theirs and given us a chance... maybe so.

Unfortunately, after they gave us a hearty well done, the SF brass did not allow us to sit in on the critique of the exercise.

It was fun. I was exhausted when it was over but could actually have gone longer had it been necessary which was something I had wanted to know. I got by the week.

and on two canteens of water and a bottle of beer (drank gallons when I got home). Also existed on GI rations. My god, they're just as awful as the jokes make them sound. Actually ate less than two complete rations over the weekend. Didn't loose any weight.

There's another exercise in July and I certainly wish you could be here for it. This one is going to be different. For one thing, my people are going to be tightly organized and we'll allow the other civilians to be soaked up by our organization. We'll retain our organization and keep our people under our own control. Especially we'll have our own commo section and equipment and we'll use it. (I have one base radio and 8 handy talkies on one frequency. Four pack radios on another frequency. And I can get more if necessary. I'll also find a couple of good radio ops to go with me). We'll also come up with some improvements in weapons. I'll probably rig a blank adapter for the EB 26 for instance. And I hope to have a BAR by then. We should have more people also. I hope to have about 30 to 40 guerrillas this time.

In actual operations the SF people only work as advisers to the guerrilla units who maintain a distinct autonomy. I intend that we shall work both ways also. This will give us a great influence over the exercise (a better chance to make mistakes) and require the SF people to work more closely with us, especially at the operations level.

Another criticism I had of the operation was lack of imagination in some cases. The operational order detailed that the Aggressors were not supposed to know that we were in the area, therefore they were not supposed to patrol in a certain area close to our bivouac. Now actually of course they did know we were there and so we did get interruptions by their patrols. This was naughty, they weren't playing the game....this according to some of the SF people. ~~XXXXXXXX~~ Hognash! Also the exercise had no umpires. One of our patrols clashed with one of theirs. They had six people with Madsens where we had about 8 or 10 with one carbine, several M1 rifles, and a couple of guys with no weapons. This was at extremely close range. According to the officers with our patrol we won. This even though several of our own people admitted they cut us to shreds.

Also, we staged our attack on the main gate of the compound with the truck across better than two hundred yards of wide open terrain followed by people on foot because technically we didn't know they had all that automatic firepower. Hognash, we knew it was there so why not admit it and figure out an assault that would overcome that problem.

And we made that assault in broad daylight because some idiot wrote it into the operations that way. (The United States was supposed to launch their attack against the Aggressor in New Jersey at 0600 so that's when we had to take the compound and blow the generators which provided power for most of the northern part of the State. This would naturally be a big help to the attacking forces. But why couldn't we take the compound just before daylight and hold it until 0600 and blow the generators then. We'd have a better chance of taking it in the dark and then holding it until 0600 when we could blow the generators. If it appeared that we were going in to be overrun we could blow the generators early. The timing would have been lost but the generators would at least be out. The way to run it there was a very real chance that the generators might never get blown at all and that might prove a major set back to the invasion.

In case you wonder why I've bored you with a long critique of the operation,

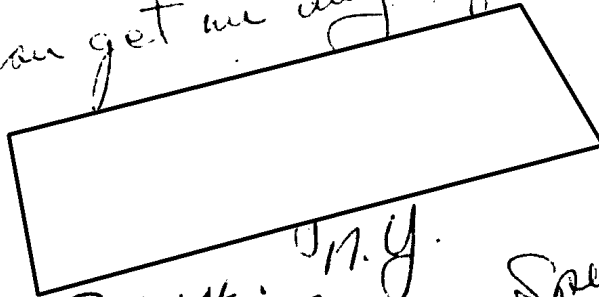

I wanted to get it written out anyway to go over with my people and for that matter I may send it along to the SF people just for kicks. Would be interesting to get their reaction to it.

So now I'll have to go mail the thing fast or you'll leave before it gets there.

See you Sunday.
